Biography

Renowned for her ability to efficiently and compassionately guide clients through the complex and often traumatic process of deceased estates administration, Jennifer is a leading specialist in this field. Managing the administration of deceased estates requires not only an in-depth knowledge of the steps involved but also the ability to offer clients sensitivity and clarity during what is more often than not, a difficult time. Jennifer has been doing this with professional ease for over 25 years.

Jennifer facilitates the transfer and management of property and assists in the drafting of wills, trusts, powers of attorney and any other needs. Often this involves complex processes and she makes it a priority to effectively and sensitively guide clients at all times.

Jennifer obtained her B.A. and LL.B. degrees from the University of the Witwatersrand.
